From Our Corner...

Idle thoughts to try and fill a column...

To all of our sports minded readers, this has been quite a weekend for Michigan...first off, our high flying Tigers went into Blue Jay country for a three game series with the second place Toronto club and proceeded to knock them off in the first two games Friday and Saturday to go 10½ games up...they may have won Sunday, but we're working on this turkey while the game is in progress...they won...

Now for football...our Grayling Vikings under coaches Bill Klinger, Mike Branch and Don Ferguson got off on the right foot Friday night as they downed Roscommon on the Bucks field 18 to 7...with this victory under their belts, the Vikes go into Michigan-Huron Shores conference play against the Cheboygan Chiefs this Friday night on the Vikes home grounds...

Still on football...Bo, and his Go Blue Wolverines pulled the upset of the day when they handed top ranked Miami a 22-14 setback at Ann Arbor to scramble the ratings of the top teams in the country...the question? Who's on top now...the Michigan State Spartans journeyed west to Colorado and came home the winner 24 to 21...go Vikings, Tigers, Lions, Wolverines and Spartans, and flip a coin when U of M meets State...

We found out when we got home Sunday afternoon the Detroit Lions defeated the Atlanta Falcons 27-24 in overtime...

We scoffed last week when we read about this Sunday being grandparents day...all we could think of was, what other day can they come up with to put red on the calendar...now, we speak from experience...really, there is nothing our bride and I need to have given to us because of some certain day...presents in our mind are for the young...

But, things sort of changed Saturday evening while we were eating dinner...the door bell rang and our bride answered and I heard the man say we have been trying all day to deliver this...she returned with a large basket of fruit and some flowers sent to us from our granddaughter, Amber, in Nevada...for a few seconds we sort of choked up...we heard on the radio Sunday the day was proclaimed by President Reagan to sort of honor us ol' timers...but really, no need for presents...even though they do sort of get to you, evidently, because the realization of getting older is there...

Now that school is underway, R.J., the Flatbush flash from the Bronx will have to stop by now and then to tell us how busy he is and Irvin, the retired railroad man, now that he has to get off the green pastures, sometimes called the golf links, will be passing by to give us some words of wisdom to pass on to our couple readers that will help us fill this turkey at times...

Sorry to refer to our column as a turkey, but we have heard it is the only living thing that when it rained, it lifted its head with mouth open and drowned...that sort of tells you something about our column most weeks...dead...

An afterthought about grandparents day...our bride talked to Dane Saturday night after we had received our gift and he told her they had sent that through their computer...he also mentioned when we wanted to make reservations to fly out there to let him know...they would make the reservations for us...the more I think of it, the more I realize this world is getting abit too fast for the ol' fella...

Another afterthought and before we get run out of town...we forgot to mention up above the Vikingettes winning a thriller in their first basketball outing against JoBerg, sorry about the mental lapse gals...you belong right up with the Tigers...

After last week's edition we received a note from one of our readers that suggested that we call Jim Fitzgerald and ask permission to run his column in our space, then all we would have to put up with is your first graph and last...and still be able, to say goodnight to your granddaughters T.J., Stefany and Amber...sobeit...to our readers, have a nice weekend, this is the beautiful time of the year in, northern Michigan...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

RELIGION IN POLITICS

We are reading and hearing much today from liberal humanists about Bible believing conservatives violating the constitutional and civil rights of others. They attack a conservative Baptist pastor's work in the Moral Majority, but seem to have a different attitude toward a liberal Baptist minister who ran for nomination for U.S. president. Little is said about liberals taking offerings in their churches given directly to liberal candidates, or sent to aid Communist rebels in other countries. They saw no problem with separation of church and state when the National Council of Churches first started speaking out to promote liberal morality.

We live in a pluralistic society. Everyone is supposed to have freedom of religion and freedom of speech. The liberals have a one sided view of pluralism. If they undermine our traditional moral values, smear the American system, give sympathy and support to Communist governments, permit the death of 17 million unborn human beings, defend and promote "gay" rights, and weaken our defenses by pushing the nuclear freeze, and blocking the MX missile or the B-1 Bomber, then they are not trying to impose their moral values on the rest of us, they are practicing pluralism in a free society. When conservatives defend the traditional moral values of this country, promote love for our American system, oppose all efforts to help Communism anywhere, fight abortion, defend the purity of the family, and strive for a strong defense against our enemies, they say we are not practicing pluralism, but violating the separation of church and state and trying to impose our "religious" values upon society.

While humanist values are taught to millions of children across America in courses like "values clarification", God, the Bible and prayer have been excluded. In Catonsville, Maryland, three dozen students were ordered to discontinue their Bible study sessions during the noon lunch hour in a vacant classroom because "the practice probably violated the law." In Council Bluffs, Iowa, a federal court awarded teacher Milton Abramson $300 for suffering "emotional distress" for being exposed to prayers during Easter and Christmas assemblies at Thomas Jefferson High School. The California Superior Court of Alameda County ordered Granada High School students not to include any religious invocation during their graduation. Though 22 states have passed silent prayer and meditation statutes, four federal courts have struck the laws down. Gideons International has been banned for distributing Bibles to students in many school districts.

While the Constitution guarantees the free exercise of religion and speech, the liberal humanists have assumed the role of protecting people from religious influence connected with God, the Bible and prayer. In essence, they intend to gradually force all Americans into one religion — secular Humanism!

I wouldn't want to live there

by Richard Milliman

BEAR WITH ME, if you please, for just one more message about my recent trip, deep into the heart of Texas.

I've written earlier about the Republican National Convention, which attracted us to Texas. But what about Dallas — the city and the area, I mean.

Well, Dallas — it seems to me — is as much a state of mind as it is a geographic location. Of course, much of Texas is that way, so the story goes.

But Dallas, to most of us northerners, epitomizes Texas. And well it might.

IT'S A BUSTLING, energetic, prosperous, growing, proud, clean, modern metropolis. There are about 900,000 people in Dallas, and about 1.2 million if you include the immediate area.

The unemployment rate is only 3.5 percent, one tourist guide told us, insisting that anyone who wants to work can get a job. Oil is important to Dallas, but so are finance and transportation and wholesaling; it's a regional center. Dallas is rich — average home price near $100,000, the same tour guide said. But there's a poor side, too, where blacks and Latinos live and which the tourists skip.

An amazing note is that only 20 percent of those living in Dallas now were there just 20 years ago when John F. Kennedy was murdered on Dallas streets. That's an indication of the growth and mobility of the area.

THE MICHIGAN delegation at the convention was not housed actually in Dallas; we were at a Marriott Hotel, one of four Marriotts in the Dallas area, but in the suburban city of Addison, north of Dallas about 20 miles. Incidentally, if you think four Marriott Hotels is saturation, consider that there are 32 Holiday Inns in the Dallas area.

The area where we stayed also contains several shopping malls, including a four-floor Galleria Mall, complete with ice skating rink in the middle; stores such as the fabled Nieman-Marcus, Saks Fifth Avenue, Lord and Taylors, Sackowitz, Tiffany's and many more; a shiny Westin Hotel, tall and mirrored; many other hotels, office buildings, financial centers, neighborhood restaurants and shops.

And none of it was there only four years ago; in 1980, it was all flat, bare, pasture-type land. You would never know it now.

Building continues, all around Dallas. The crane is the designated bird in Dallas.

DRIVING INTO Dallas is like following the Yellow Brick Road into the wonderful City of Oz, seeking the fictional Wizard. The buildings downtown are tall, and most of them make extensive use of reflecting glass. They're all shapes and sizes, too.

The Hyatt Regency Hotel, for example, is a conglomerate of round and square shapes, no two exactly alike, and all with mirrored surfaces — even the parking garage.

The Wyndham Motel is another mirrored skyscraper, but its mirrors are gold-toned, and its tall shape is cylindrical, something like a gigantic deodorant stick.

For the convention, the people of Dallas were on their best behavior — maybe they're always like that. The natives are proud of Texas, and let you know, friendly like, when you run into them in a restaurant or lounge or store.

The service personnel, who come in contact with tourist-delegates, were almost uniformly pleasant and helpful. The capstone for me came from a bus driver, who as we alit at our hotel after a long day, smiled and told us: "Have a good time, now. We're very happy you came to Dallas." Now that's pleasant.

DALLAS IS FLAT. And when we were there, it was hot — up to 110 on one day, over 100 on several days, never under 90 during the daytime. That's not unusual, the natives will admit when you press them.

When you get right down to it, there's really not much for a visitor to do in Dallas. We attended the convention each day; without that, our visit would have been as flat as the terrain.

One day, we took one of those city tours; we were picked up at our hotel 20 miles out of downtown Dallas at about 8:30 a.m., made two stops at attractions (a city park and the Kennedy death site), and were all done with the city tour and back at our hotel by 11:45 a.m.

The two most popular tourist attractions in Dallas are the Kennedy site and South Fork Ranch, where the TV show "Dallas" is partly shot. As a matter of fact, the TV "Dallas" is probably the biggest tourist attraction in the real Dallas right now. The guides and bus drivers and taxi drivers delight in pointing out where various landmarks of the TV show are in real life.

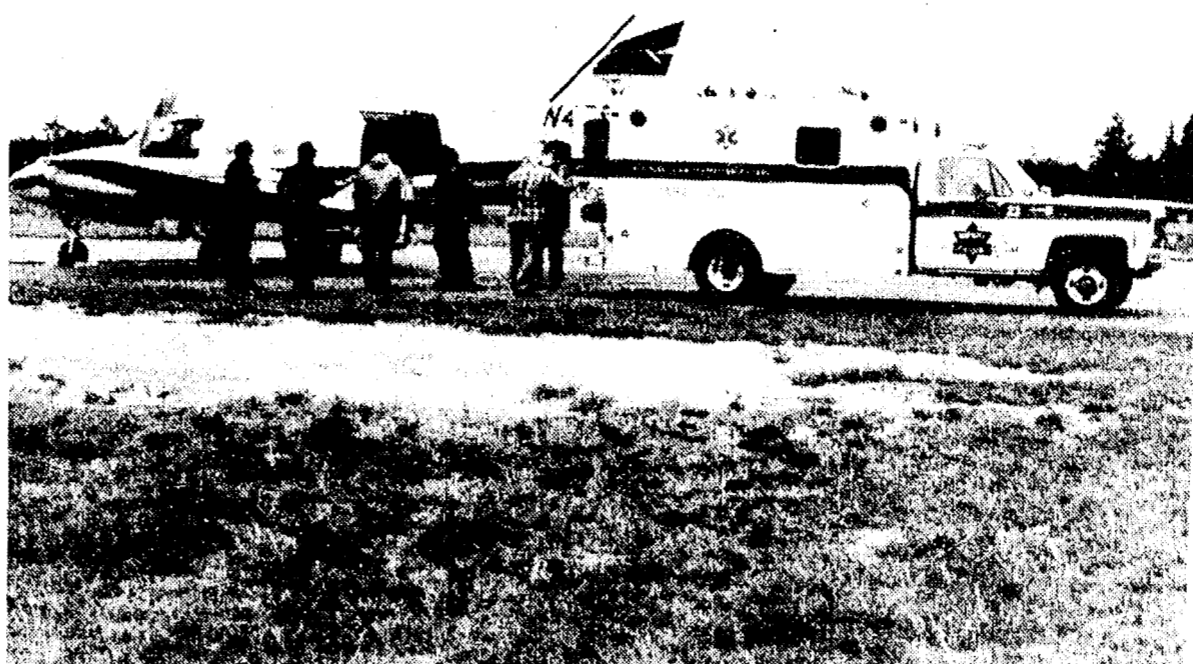

ONE OF THE TOURIST highlights for me was an evening at Billy Bob's huge beer garden — billed as the largest honky tonk in the world. It may be. Actually it's not in Dallas, but in Fort Worth, about 35 miles from Dallas. It's worth the trip — if you like that sort of thing.

Billy Bob's draws name entertainers, such as Wayne Newton and the Gatlin Brothers, and has something like 42 beer dispensing stations, all under one roof. There's a large dance floor, souvenir shops, a variety of eating spots — and a rodeo ring featuring live steer riding twice a night. Now that's different.

Billy Bob's is close by the Fort Worth stockyards, and is supposed to be an outgrowth of the range and cowboy days. There used to be mechanical bulls for the local cowboys to ride, but these fake bulls were pulled out when the insurance claims for whiplash and other ailments started to pile up.

AT ANY RATE, Dallas is a fascinating place to visit, as long as you have something else to do there. As for me, a visit every eight or 10 years would be plenty often enough.

I wouldn't want to live there — but I wouldn't mind having a business in Dallas.

AMBULANCE FLIGHT — Ambulance flights are becoming an almost common occurrence at Grayling McNamara Airport. The most recent such flight took place on the evening of Saturday, August 18. The airport staff and management have expressed admiration and respect for the high degree of coordinated professionalism exhibited between hospital staff, flight crew, and local paramedic personnel.

Specialized Education in Nursing at Kirtland

Kirtland Community College's one year certificate (PN) and two year Associate in Applied Science (ADN) degree programs in Nursing provide students with the education necessary to take the National Council of Licensure Examinations for LPN and RN licensure. These programs provide this specialized education both in a classroom and a laboratory setting. Students also gain experience in a clinical setting utilizing various health care agencies such as hospitals, extended care facilities, and physicians offices and clinics.

In the Practical Nursing Program, nursing theory classes are held on campus two days a week for approximately six hours each day throughout the three semester program. The instructors are registered nurses. The students study the "normal" human (anatomy, physiology, nutrition, growth, and development), foundations of nursing (which includes the scientific principles underlying nursing care skills and the practicing of these skills), and relationships that deal with the student as a nurse. After studying the "normal" human, the student will study variations from normal, including the family during the child bearing years, and the disease process in both children and adults. The practical nursing program serves as the first year of Kirtland's Associate Degree Nursing (RN) program.

Kirtland's ADN program supports career mobility in its ladder program approach. The ladder approach builds upon previously acquired knowledge. Therefore, the first year of the two-year curriculum is that of a basic practical nursing program. The program is geared to accommodate the working practical nurse, with courses in the program generally built around a three day per week schedule.

Admission to Kirtland does not guarantee admission into the practical nursing program. A series of tests covering mathematics and english must be completed, along with the National League for Nursing's Practical Nursing Test. Other requirements regarding chemistry, biology and mathematics courses must also be met. The student entering the ADN Level II program must be a practical nursing graduate or an LPN.

If you would like further information on Kirtland's

Practical Nursing or Associate Degree Nursing program, contact Mrs. Katherine Grosser, Director of Health Occupations, or the Admission's Office, at 517/275-5121.

State Ending Year With
$271 Million Budget Surplus

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

The State Department of Management and Budget figures estimate the general fund budget will have a surplus of $271.7 million at the end of the fiscal year — September 30.

The director of the Senate Fiscal Agency said that the new estimate is an increase for the year-end surplus of nearly $50 million, which reflects higher revenues than earlier estimated.

The surplus projection, contained in the state's August financial report, is based on a final general fund revenue estimate of $5,634.7 million, which includes $19.7 million in surplus from the 1982-83 fiscal year and estimated expenditures of $5,363 million, which includes $51.8 million in departmental lapses.

Ted Ferris, director of the Senate Fiscal Agency, said the increased surplus projection is over $49 million higher than earlier projections and was due to higher revenue estimates than earlier projected by the administration.

Ferris said he expected the state would increase its revenue estimates again before the end of the fiscal year.

In the financial report, the department reported the $5,615 million tax revenue estimate is an actual decrease of $11.3 million which reflect the accelerated income tax rollback that began September 1.

Under the rollback, the state's income tax rate dropped from 6.1 percent to 5.35 percent. The department estimated the rollback will cost the state some $46 million.

The total estimated general-fund income tax revenue for 1983-84 was down by a total of $56 million, which includes the $46 million decline from the accelerated rollback and another $10 million because of lower than anticipated annual payments.

However, sales tax collections through July were 14.7 percent over collections in July, 1983. That increase, according to the report, was the smallest increase since January.

For the year, sales tax collections are running 15.2 percent higher than for the same period in 1982-83, according to the report.

The estimate for total fiscal year sales tax collection has been increased by $24 million to $1,913 million. The total sales tax increase allocated to the general fund was $11.7 million.

The report also said the single business tax estimate for 1983-84 was increased by $33 million to $1,062.5 million.

On an accrual basis, SBT collections were 32.2 percent higher than collections for the same time in 1982-83.

Additionally, Ferris estimated that the .25 percent income tax-surcharge collected to retire the state's cash deficit will come off in either January or February, 1986.

He said his agency figures estimate it could come off in January, 1986, but the figures included in the August financial report would delay that surcharge removal until a month later.

Vikes Tame Bucks 18-7 For Opening Game Win

Kevin McDonough ran in an interception for a touchdown to put Grayling back in the game and Rodney Paterson closed the door on Roscommon with two touchdowns.

McDonough's 31-yard touchdown helped the Vikings recover from a 71-yard touchdown pass Roscommon scored on their third play of the game.

Patterson's 21-yard touchdown run put Grayling in the lead and a 75-yard bomb from Jeff Branch to Patterson sealed the 18-7 win in the fourth quarter.

Grayling faces a big game Friday at home against Class B powerhouse Cheboygan. Cheboygan handed Grayling one of only two losses last year. Kickoff for the varsity home opener is at 7:30 p.m.

At Roscommon, the Jack Pine Conference foe struck quickly.

"They shocked us with the long touchdown," head coach Bill Klinger said. "We had the receiver covered but we went for the interception. It took us the entire first quarter to regroup after that play."

Klinger said the Viking's defense did a solid job of stopping Roscommon after that first pass. Grayling held them to 38 yards rushing and only 60 yards passing after the long touchdown. He credited Patterson, Barsie Cross, Ron Wyman, Riley McNamara, Kevin Hudson, and Lance Davis for some hard hitting defense.

"On offense we looked good at times and we looked bad at times," Klinger said. "Roscommon did a good job plugging the middle where we wanted to run."

Klinger said Roscommon even bunched ten men at the line sometimes in the second half so Grayling had to go to the air even though they had the lead. On the 75-yard bomb to Patterson, Grayling sent two receivers streaking downfield and Branch found the open man. Gregg Burns had a block on the 10-yard line to spring Patterson into the end zone. Branch connected on three of eight for a total of 118 yards for the night.

The 21-yard touchdown run came after the defense stopped Roscommon deep in their own territory. A good punt return gave Grayling the ball on the 21 and Patterson skipped through on a trap play led by Davis, McNamara, Wyman, Scott Schwartz, and Todd Witcher.

All three of Grayling's conversion attempts failed. The first run by Cross was stopped off right end. A pass on the second attempt was incomplete and a kick by Mick Lovely failed.

One bright point on special teams play was a kick-off by Kevin Hudson sailing out of the end zone.

Against Cheboygan Friday, Klinger said his team is going to try to move the ball outside more and throw more. He said Grayling is also going to work on their extra-point conversions.

The Grayling J.V. team battled to a 6-6 tie with Roscommon.

Stunning Rally Gives Vikings 41-39 Opening Game Victory

By Jon Thompson

Sophomore Michelle Moore, starting her first varsity game, made a crucial steal and put in a picturesque breakaway lay-up for the winning basket Wednesday night in Grayling's stunning 41-39 come-from-behind win over Johannesburg.

A strong inside game by Johannesburg combined with a pressure defense built leads of 13 in both the second and third quarters and Grayling was struggling at 10 points down to open the last quarter.

Big plays by Viking starters Moore, Kris Laudenslager, Michelle Barber, Erin Jones, and Heidi Derenzy lifted the team and Grayling's defense came alive.

Laudenslager started the fourth quarter comeback banking in a shot and then hitting Jones underneath the bucket for an assist. The basket by Jones cut the Johannesburg lead to 33-27 and they called a time out to try to stem the Viking tide.

Moore swished a shot from the side and a pretty passing play involving Jones feeding Laudenslager netted another basket.

Barber grabbed an offensive rebound and put in a basket closing the gap to two points with 2:37 left in the game. Free throws by Laudenslager and Derenzy tied the game but a long jumper by Johannesburg put them back in the lead.

Laudenslager countered with a jump shot to tie the game and Moore hit a shot from the side to give Grayling the lead with 1:15 to go. Shawn Denton, Derenzy, and Barber then each made good defensive plays to tie up Johannesburg and create jump balls.

Moore's steal and lay-up gave Grayling a four-point lead and they hung as Derenzy stole the ball once and Barber brought down a defensive rebound with 16 seconds left to seal the win. Johannesburg hit two free throws with nine seconds left and got the ball back but time ran out.

Kim Springer, Lori Pfaff, and Dawn Phelps also came off the Viking bench to contribute to the second half comeback. The Vikings were aided by a partisan crowd of nearly 150 persons including a loud block of cheering Viking football players.

Grayling began the game playing well as two baskets by Jones and Barber with a lay-up by Moore helped the Vikings keep pace. Johannesburg featured strong inside players and their offense was able to get the ball to them under the basket throughout the first half. Grayling's guards had trouble getting the ball close enough to the basket to set up an offense.

Grayling adjusted well at halftime as head coach Tom Mills kept his players in the lockerroom the entire intermission going over strategy. Laudenslager and Moore led the team with 14 points each. Jones and Barber had 6 each and Derenzy 1. Laudenslager led the team with 20 rebounds.

Mills said he was pleased with his team's performance because they were just starting their season and Johannesburg had played in a summer program and had whipped Hillman by 40 points in their opener. He thought his team played a good first quarter and a strong fourth quarter but looked bad during the second and third quarter. Mills also wasn't happy with a 3 for 17 shooting from the line and poor shooting from the field.

"Still, it's nice to look back and have that opening game win," Mills said. "Johannesburg is a good team but we caught them when they were down a little bit in the second half and our momentum carried us even when they recovered."

The Grayling J.V. team opened their season with a 52-39 win.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

Many changes in our lifestyles have taken place during this, the 20th Century. Needless to say, our methods of travel, health care, and ways of constructing buildings have changed drastically.

Today glue plays an important part in fabricating the many articles we take for granted in our daily lives. At one time, if you wanted to fasten two pieces of wood together, you had a choice of using wooden trenails or very scarce iron nails and/or screws.

In the artifacts we have are some old square nails which I was trying to date. Before 1800, nails were made by hand from a small square iron rod which was tapered to a point. After it was cut to the desired length, the head was formed with two to four well-placed hammer blows. After 1800, nails were cut from a sheet of iron and were tapered on one side only. The head was still formed by hand, but this changed about 1825 when machines not only cut the nails but formed the head as well.

Screws have undergone as much change over the years. During the 1700's and up until about 1840, screws were not tapered in the threaded portion and only slightly in the head portion. Screws were not pointed until after 1846 and if you look carefully at really old screws, the threads were sometimes filed by hand and the slots in the heads were also cut by hand.

Incidentally, the nails I was trying to date were not that old since they were machine made.

Religious Census To Be Taken

The churches of Grayling area, under the direction of the AuSable Ministerial Association will be going out into the community neighborhoods on September 23rd and 30th to discover the religious affiliation of area residents, on these two Sunday afternoons.

Teams of callers representing the various congregations will be coming to your door asking you several short questions, it will take only a minute or so of your time. Did you know that two out of every three homes have no church home?

The purpose of the survey is to give area people an opportunity to express interests they may have in regard to affiliating with one of the area churches.

Please give these callers your cooperation, as it will be greatly appreciated.

Little League To Meet

New Scout Troop Walks "Big Mac"

by Todd Pfaff

Troop 979, Grayling's newest Boy Scout Troop celebrated Labor Day by going on an overnight campout, then participated in the annual Mackinac Bridge Walk.

All eight Scouts, including Ron Bancroft, Jason Clark, Casey Goeckerman, Lee Bob Johnson, John Kinney, and Jay Ramsey, took part in this holiday excursion with adult supervision by Scoutmaster Loren Goodale III, and Temporary Asst. Scoutmaster Todd Pfaff.

The Bridge walk took an average of 1½ hours, with time left over for the Scouts to look Mackinac City's Souvenir Shops over. It must have been a tiring day as most of the Scouts slept on most of the trip home. Heres to hoping that this will become an annual event for the Troop.

As you will note, I am only serving as Asst. Scoutmaster on a temporary basis, as I will be attending Ferris State College. Due to this, the position is open to one or more persons who have an interest in Scouting, and helping to make better men out of its members. If you have an interest, either to become Asst. Scoutmaster, or to join as a Scout, I would like to ask that you please call Loren Goodale III at 348-9414. The rewards of Scouting are a great experience in a Great organization.

Also due to the fact of my leaving town to go back to school, these articles about Troop 979 will also change hands. My worthy successor will be Cathy Goeckerman. You may recall that Cathy was the former Secretary of Troop 997's Committee, from which she transferred to Troop 979. Thus we at 979 would like to welcome her to our Committee.

District Court

The following persons appeared in 83rd District Court before Judge Francis L. Walsh:

Norman Bancroft, 19, of Grayling, demanded preliminary examination to a charge of breaking and entering an occupied building with intent to commit larceny. Bond was set at $5,000 cash or surety.

Chester Drewery, 26, of Roscommon, plead guilty to a charge of O.U.I.L. and was sentenced to one year probation with the first 30 days in the county jail. He was cited July 9 by city police.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence N. Ostrowski of Grayling are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Khristy Marie Ostrowski to Jerry John Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon D. Norman also of Grayling.

A winter wedding in Naples, Italy is being planned.

Air Force Training Exercise Set Sept. 13

Wurtsmith Air Force Base More aircraft than ever before will converge at Selfridge Air National Guard Base on September 13 for operation "Sentry Wolverine 84," according to Mr. Donald Odell, Selfridge Public Affairs Officer.

Nicknamed "Wolverine Flag," the four-day exercise will be the largest mock-war training exercise ever held in the skies over Michigan. The Air Force's newest F-15 Eagle and F-16 Fighting Falcon fighters and the Navy's carrier-based F-14 Tomcat will join other aircraft from all over the United States and Canada in the exercise.

Mission Commander Brig. Gen. Harold Rudolph stated, "This is the third year running that Selfridge has hosted this exercise and it has been one of the best training exercises in the country, run entirely by Air National Guard personnel."

Lt. Col. Walter Wick, exercise director, defined the goals of the training exercise: "This operation is designed to increase a pilot's ability to survive in a combat environment."

Plans call for air-to-ground attack aircraft to strike simulated enemy targets deep in "hostile" territory. "Attacking" aircraft will fly at low level, not below 500 feet above the ground, from a point northwest of Port Huron, over the tip of the thumb to a point over Lake Huron just east of Black River where the aircraft will turn westward, cross the coastline and fly just to the north of the town of Hubbard Lake to Lockwood Lake where they will turn to the southeast and continue to a point about ten miles west of Luzerne. There they will turn right and fly into the "strike area" which is located near Camp Grayling.

In addition to simulated land, air and sea attacks, a simulated rescue operation will add realism to the exercise. Search and rescue teams from the 305th Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron at Selfridge will locate and retrieve a "downed" pilot in the Grayling area.

More than 100 aircraft from as far away as California and Florida as well as a Coast Guard cutter from Cleveland, Ohio, will participate in the exercise.

Camp Grayling Critical Area Treatment RC&D Measure, Michigan

Agency: Soil Conservation Service ,
U.S. Department of Agriculture
Action: Notice of Finding of
No Significant Impact

SUMMARY: Pursuant to Section, 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines, (40 CFR Part 1500); and the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (7 CFR Part 650); the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Camp Grayling RC&D Measure, Crawford County, Michigan.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Homer R. Hilner, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, 1405 South Harrison Road, East Lansing, Michigan 48823, Telephone 517-337-6702.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The environmental assessment of this federally assisted action indicates that the project will not cause significant local, regional, or national impacts on the environment. A contact has been made with the State Historical Preservation Officer and concludes that it will have no effect on any cultural resources either eligible for or listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The State Archaeologist will be contacted if any land disturbance associated with this project and archaeological sites, features, or materials are encountered during actual construction. As a result of these findings, Mr. Homer R. Hilner, State Conservationist, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement are not needed for this project.

This measure concerns a plan for the installation of measures for critical area treatment. The planned works of improvement include the following items: critical area treatment. The planned works of improvement include the following items: critical area planting, 5 acres of grassed waterways, 6 grade stabilization structures, barrier posts and one sediment basin.

The Notice of a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) has been forwarded to the Environmental Protection Agency. The basic data developed during the environmental assessment are on file and may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Homer R. Hilner. The FONSI has been sent to various federal, state, and local agencies and interested parties. A limited number of copies of the FONSI are available to fill single copy requests at the above address.

Implementation of the proposal will not be initiated until 30 days after the date of this publication in the Federal Register.

Dear Whitey:

I've owned a small place at Portage Hts, near McIntyres Landing for the past fourteen years. During this period my place has been vandalized eight times. You can imagine the work and expense which follows these acts of vandalism. I realize kids love to play in the woods, ride the trails etc. But all this vandalism is just too much.

Because Grayling is our Home Town, we enjoy coming for weekends, Holidays, and Deer season, and our fifteen grandchildren love it. But lately the vandalism seems to be increasing. I wish these few vandals realized the trouble and expense they cause. One of these days they will be caught and they will have to pay for their acts.

Sorry to read Camp Grayling will not become a year around Army training camp. And last but not least, recently we drove all the Grayling streets, we think the town looks great, and congratulations to the Townspeople for making it look so sharp!

Regards,
Wes Dunham

P.S. If any reader is missing a Large 14 1/2 inch screwdriver with a tar smeared Red handle, mfg. Bridgeport Hdwe. Co. He may claim same by identifying it.

P.P.S. Rattle Snakes; To date near our place I have dispatched six of them, and the D.N.R. five for a total of eleven. Is this a record for Crawford Co.? And I can honestly say the Rattle Snakes are not as bad as these two legged ones who bust into my cabin and trailer.

Dear Editor:

I'd like to take this opportunity to congratulate the citizens of Grayling on the preservation of the Grayling railroad depot. The Rotary Club, the Housing Department and Crawford County are all to be commended for their efforts.

It is wonderful to see community spirit and cooperation have such positive results. I am sure that this historical site will be a source of pride and enjoyment for years to come.

Once again, congratulations!

Chamber Chatter

By Staff

Shades of Snowtrains and the weekly and daily Beeliner that was a part of Grayling many years ago, will again be a similar reality on October 13. On that day, an excursion company of Bay City called The Bluewater Michigan Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society will bring 350 to 450 people on a special Fall Excursion to Grayling. The train appropriately called the Timberliner will originate at the D & M Railway yard office at the east end of Wilder Road in Bay City. The train will travel north on the original D & M mainline to Linwood where it will switch over to the former Michigan Central track now operated by D & M and proceed through Pinconning, Standish, West Branch and Roscommon to Grayling. At Grayling the passengers will have about 3 hours to tour the town, visit the Crawford County Historical Society Museum, shop in the local stores and get a good meal at any of Grayling's fine restaurants. Dial-A-Ride busses and the Holiday Inn LeCouche' Bus will be on hand to transport our guests to restaurants farther than walking distance from the depot. There will be at least 8 passenger cars, maybe 10, and the train will operate rain or shine. More on this later.

The Chamber of Commerce joins the community in paying tribute to Drs. Henig and Blaha on September 23. Much will be said of the lifetime dedication of these two fine gentlemen. The entire area that has been included in a Doctor-Patient relationship is especially welcomed to the reception. The Knights of Columbus Building on Norway Street in Grayling is the site of the special affair and the time is from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. September 23 falls on a Sunday and especially chosen so that everyone will have an opportunity to shake hands, thank the Doctors for a job well done for the entire area and wish them well in their retirement.

Through the efforts and planning of grateful citizens, friends of both Doctors and Mercy Hospital Administrative Staff, the whole affair is made free to the public so that everyone can attend the reception. Mark your calendar for September 23, 1984 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. and be prepared to say "Thanks, Doc" and "Good Luck."

The Grayling Promotional Association is asking all businesses to decorate their windows or store fronts in a harvest theme for the enjoyment of the community and the tourists. They are asking this to be done by September 28th. Let's support GPA and make the Grayling area as beautiful in the fall as it is in the summer.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

The spot where Caesar was killed, the Coliseum, the Tiber River... all of them are monuments to history; reminders of the power that was ancient Rome.

Yes, stand today in the crumbling Coliseum of Rome and you can almost hear the clashes of gladiators pitted against death. Visit the ruins of the Capitol Building, and imagine Caesar, himself, in conference, or walk along the banks of the Tiber and imagine what life was like for a Roman citizen. Almost everywhere you see landmarks that breathe the nature of this Eternal City.

There's another Eternal City whose streams flow from one great fountain of everlasting life. The Church is the lamp which lights the way to the joyful peace of the changeless city of God.

Find the light for your own way. Worship this week in the church or synagogue of your choice.

Seminar to Prevent Drunk Driving

Crawford & Otsego County area bar owners will learn how to prevent drunk driving when the Techniques of Alcohol Management (TAM) seminar comes to the Hidden Valley Resort M-32, East in Gaylord on Wednesday, September 19, 1984.

The eight-hour seminar, sponsored by the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association (MLBA), is the first of its kind in the nation to teach bar and restaurant employees how to monitor customers' drinking behavior. It also includes information on the clinical effects of alcohol, recognizing the signs of intoxication and preventing service to minors.

"The TAM program will become standard education for licensed establishments across the country," says Rod Brown, MLBA Executive Director. "To protect their customers and themselves, bar and restaurant owners need to teach their employees more than how to mix and serve drinks."

TAM seminars have been held locally around the state since January and has trained over 4,000 employees as certified alcohol managers.

TAM is funded by MLBA and a $50,000 federal grant made available by the Office of Highway Safety Planning. Other groups involved in the development of the program are the Association of Chiefs of Police, the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, the Michigan Sheriffs' Association, the Michigan State Police and the Office of Substance Abuse Services.

The MLBA represents 2,800 bar and party store owners, restaurateurs and hotel/motel operators throughout the state.

Michigan licensees and their employees may register for the TAM seminar by calling 1-800-643-6722 and asking for the Program Coordinator, Chuck Hadden. Cost is still $15.00 per person. The seminar begins at 10:00 a.m.

979 Newspaper News

Again, Troop 979 would like to thank all who have saved newspapers for our drive. As has been stated previously, the Troop 979 Newspaper Trailer is now located at Goodale's Mini-Storage, which can be found on Hanson Street in the Grayling Industrial Park.

Due to the planned tearing down of the building, we ask that you PLEASE do not leave your old newspapers at the barn in the Crawford County Road Commission complex. Papers may either be dropped at the Paper Drive Trailer, or in the garage at the Grayling Township Transfer site.

If you have papers, and are unable to get them to either drop point, please call 348-9414 and ask for Loren. A pick up will be arranged.

Also, please DO NOT call 348-8673, as I will no longer be handling such matters, as I am going to Ferris State College.

Troop 979 truly appreciates your donations, and would again like to thank all who have helped.
